

NATG helps you navigate your course through continuing education and training courses on Insurance Fraud. We are Insurance Fraud Specialists.

continuing education
proprietary classes
tailor-made programs
online or on location
professional designation
continuing education
proprietary classes
tailor-made programs
online or on location
professional designation
continuing education
proprietary classes
tailor-made programs
online or on location
professional designation
continuing education
proprietary classes
tailor-made programs
online or on location
professional designation
continuing education
proprietary classes
tailor-made programs

Chart your course.

NATG Provider of Fraud Education

We put high quality training right at your fingertips.

visit us on the web:
www.fraudeducation.com
info@fraudeducation.com
or call us toll free:
888.884.6284

Discover the advantages that make NATG your choice for the knowledge and training you need to combat fraud.

[ accelerate your path to success ]

education

With multiple demands on your time, why go it alone in making sure all of your team members receive good training? Our proprietary courses are specifically developed to help you and your team members receive the highest quality of Insurance Fraud training at the best price.

Online or On Location.

[ education experts ]

Unlocking your potential.

Online or on location, you receive NATG expertise, proprietary classes and real-world knowledge. Our courses, delivered through multiple channels, are taught right in your place of business or right online, are tailored to your needs and designed to free your time to engage in other important activities. Cost and time effective, with lively and stimulating course content, NATG delivers.

Browse our course offerings and see why NATG is the trusted partner in fraud training, continuing education and Insurance Fraud Certification.

Advantages:

- » Courses taught right in your place of business or right online
- » Programs tailored to your needs
- » Courses are updated to reflect current trends
- » Cost and time effective
- » Lively and stimulating course content
- » Independent of any investigation vendors, so no marketing or sales promoting occurs at any time.

INSURANCE FRAUD CERTIFIED™

Finding your way through multiple offerings to educate yourself on insurance fraud can be daunting. There is one company that helps you receive the training you need with no guesswork involved.

With 3 Levels of Expertise, This Designation:

- » requires the completion of courses developed and reviewed by a panel of leading professional industry experts.
- » brings your PI's career to the next level by attracting clients from the nation's most serious and successful anti-fraud units.
- » ensures appropriate training at every level to increase PI effectiveness.

Insurance Fraud Certified™

NATG offers the only programs for private investigators specifically geared towards insurance fraud. Why send your investigators out in the field and not train them to recognize and understand insurance fraud? Investigation training itself is only part of a well rounded base of knowledge and understanding needed to create an effective defense. This designation creates the long needed unity between private investigators and those in the insurance industry who utilize them. By raising the bar for consistent quality, the IFC produces the confidence we all desire in accomplishing our common goal.

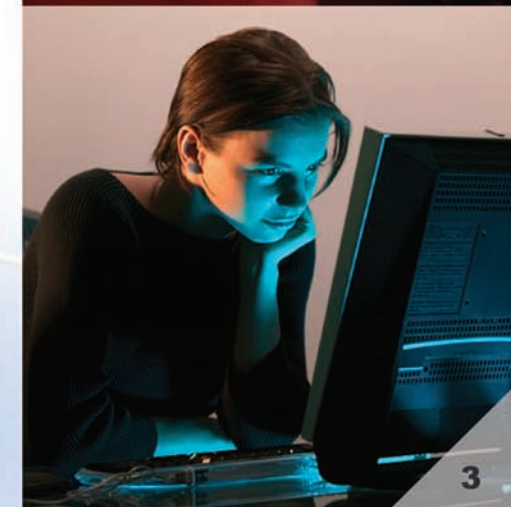

Our courses are targeted to help investigators recognize and understand fraud, and give them the tools to accurately size up situations to be more productive in the partnership of all insurance professionals dedicated to the cause

Who is NATG?

We are a group of insurance fraud professionals who saw a need within our industry to standardize and make available training specifically targeted to growing fraud issues. Industry professionals are experiencing greater and greater demands upon their time and need quality training resources geared toward the recognition, understanding, and deterrence of current fraud trends.

The principals of NATG, working with top executives, program directors, and investigators in the industry have developed proven and effective methods for comprehensive fraud awareness and understanding. As industry insiders, we have the knowledge and the expertise to put resources and information at your disposal to train insurance professionals to recognize and combat fraud effectively.

Seminars. Online training. Proprietary classes.
 Our original Insurance Fraud Certified™
 professional designation.
 Put us to work for you.

Our proprietary classes reflect years of field experience.

Continuing Education enrich your professional knowledge.

Our Continuing Education Courses
 NATG is committed to ensuring that licensed insurance professionals receive the highest quality Insurance Fraud training. Individuals have the convenience of online self study, and groups have the option of choosing on location or online study.

Our courses are comprehensive, designed by professionals who teach real-world, experience-based knowledge. Best of all, with course delivery flexibility, it's your choice to receive traditional or online training.

Our courses are accredited by your state and in compliance with your state's continuing education provider requirements.

Our CE courses enhance career development and increase productivity by also satisfying your state and/or company mandates for anti-fraud training.

Why separate the two and spend twice the time learning when you can accomplish both with our courses?

Fraud Training tailored to meet your specific needs.

NATG's top industry professionals have years of anti-fraud experience. We are insiders who know how tough it is to stay on top of everything. We make fraud training easy and convenient, whether online, or on location, with a variety of topics to educate everyone from the beginner to the seasoned professional.

Comply with state regulations for anti-fraud training and meet company mandates while enhancing your fraud program's success.

ATG's top industry professionals have years of anti-fraud experience. We are insiders who know how tough it is to stay on top of everything. We make fraud training easy and convenient, whether online, or on location, with a variety of topics to educate everyone from the beginner to the seasoned professional.

We work with you to succeed. More and more states have added regulations to SIU fraud plan mandates requiring introductory, or basic entry level, and ongoing or periodic anti-fraud training for integral personnel. As a proactive step, many insurance companies have implemented their own mandates for such training. NATG can tailor make a program and provide the courses you need to stay on top of all of your training requirements.